The United Kingdom's Patent Box Regime, by Gary Moss

Gary Moss, the head of EIP Legal, has had an article published in US magazine Intellectual Property Today.

The three-page article in the June 2012 issue highlights the UK Government's Patent Box scheme, and includes IP protection strategies to be considered by organisations doing business in the UK, in light of the Patent Box.

The article is available for IP Today members to view in full online, or as a pdf download.
