Samsung v Apple tablet battle hits the UK

The ongoing dispute between Apple and Samsung over Apple's Registered Community Designs for its iPad has now entered the UK courts.

Darren Smyth's latest IPKat post relates to a decision of Mr Justice Mann of 4 April where the claimants (Samsung UK and Samsung Korea) were seeking a declaration of non-infringement of Apple's Registered Community Design by the Galaxy tablet. The action also sought relief for unjustified threats of infringement proceedings allegedly made by Apple.
